Walk through the halls. Listen at the classroom doors.
 In one a lesson on the nature of Greek tragedy,
 A drill on when and why.
 In another the sound of voices rehearsing,
 trying to get that ONE part.
 In another, silence — a math quiz.
 Whatever the problems and frustrations we have,
 Something exciting is going on . . .
 Education.

The American Field Service is a program that promotes brotherhood and mutual understanding of people from all over the world.

This year, Bruce Blair was selected to represent the United States in Chicchicbu, Japan. Although adjustment to a culture so different from our own was difficult at first, he is settled in now — learning and living in the complex Japanese society.

Bruce Blair

Also, this year we are happy to have Darinka Skuber, our A.F.S. student from Yugoslavia. She arrived in August and is staying with the Welch family. Darinka is a welcome addition to our school and the class of 1976.

Both the adult and student A.F.S. chapters work hard to raise money to finance various A.F.S. activities and projects. In the past year we have held two flea markets which were quite successful.

In these times of great change, it is important to realize the fact that all, in spite of cultural and economic differences, people are people — we all share the same limitations, the same needs and basic feelings. Perhaps the statement “united, we stand; divided, we fall” says it all.

Karen Merrill
President

The year 1976 is special.

It is the year of our Nation's bicentennial, and it is also the year that the staff of the 1976 Vineyarder altered tradition.

We feel that the most unique feature in the creation of the 1976 Vineyarder has been the change from the single editor staff used in previous years to a staff led by co-editors, each sharing the manifold responsibilities of making sure that deadlines are met, photographs are turned in on time, and lay-outs are completed. We've had our share of problems, as any staff will, in putting out a yearbook; but working together we managed to make decisions that we hope will be satisfying. We as editors are very grateful to have a staff like ours, all pulling together for a finished product. We would like to express our thanks to each and every member. We would also like to thank Miss Barbara Lassen, without her our yearbook could not have been completed.

Pamela Dowley, editor; Jeanne Crosby, editor; Miss Barbara Lassen, advisor; Mary Oliver, assistant editor.

We want to look back on our yearbook ten years from now and see something that represents the people in our class as individuals. Despite the difficulties of change we have encountered, we are proud to say that our yearbook fulfills our goal.

The music department is very busy preparing for The Cape Cod Music Festival, which will be held this year on Martha's Vineyard. We are planning an exchange program with Hudson, New Hampshire, during March, that will include Band, Chorus and Minnesingers.

In the Spring, Minnesingers will be going on Tour; they are hoping to attend The Festival of Nations in Washington, D.C., if their fund-raising efforts are successful.

Workouts, Sour Notes and Detention Halls

The post-school hour is the period when many activities happen. Many people stay after school for one reason or another. This elite group is comprised of practicing sports people, music members and cheerleaders. Sign painters and yearbook editors also remain after school. The student caught flipping peas in the cafeteria stays after school for a different reason.

"It takes four years to become a senior — some like it so much they decide to be one next year."

"Being a senior is being at the top of one ladder, and realizing it's just the bottom of another."

"The feeling of freedom is near, but many memories inflict regret."

"Being a senior is like being a monkey waiting to spring the gate to the banana plantation."

"Being a senior means being special, being the heart of the school. It's knowing you can make the school."

"A senior is someone who tries to act older than everyone else, and ends up acting more immature than before."

"Being a senior is being broke — all the time."

A Look at the Past

Entering high school in 1972 was a big step for many of us. We really didn't know what to anticipate. Some of us had older brothers and sisters, or friends that were there, and they kindly provided us with the necessary information. Still, those circulating rumors concerning authoritative seniors that kept freshmen in their place had infiltrated the eighth grade, causing a wave of nausea to pass through many stomachs.

The first day was not bad at all. There were a lot of people around to discuss "that modular system," locker combinations and any other problems that arose.

Guidance was packed with many freshmen and other students, all wishing to correct errors in their schedules, which were caused by that "dumb" computer.

The day ended with a feeling of satisfaction, and hopes that we would enjoy the rest of the year as well.

As freshmen, our appointed advisors were Mrs. Richard Johnson and Mr. Tyrus Houston, who sat patiently through our class and officer meetings while Chester Cook, Lynda Aiguier, Annette Moreis, Corey Metell, Diane Figueiredo and the class pondered on various money-making schemes, all of which amounted to a short but very successful candy store in the cafeteria, food sales and the selling of stationery. That year's noted but unsuccessful endeavor was a raffle on a jug of supposed jelly beans. The ace mathematician was to receive ten dollars plus the jug for the closest count. Unfortunately, there was an island-wide shortage of jelly beans that year and Canada Mints seemed to be a reasonable facsimile. The mistake occurred when they were bought by the box instead of the bag, the total cost being seventeen dollars for mints. The raffle ended in bankruptcy, but this proved to be a valuable lesson that would remain with us throughout our years at M.V.R.H.S.

A new year and a new election brought with it new officers: Pam Dowley, Regina Trebby, Corey Metell, Chris Flanders, and Diane Figueiredo. Our advisors were Mr. Daniel McCarthy and Mr. Tyrus Houston. A quick turnover sent Mr. Houston's services to the Student Council and brought Mr. Edmond Coogan to our aid.

Relieved to be one step from the bottom, and with a little more experience under our belts, we truly deserved the title of sophomore, which in Greek means "wise fool."

The year got off to a quick start with a well-organized spaghetti supper, a raffle on a food basket and a bake sale. At this point, financially, the year ended, which brings me to our junior year.

Entering this all important year there seemed to be one major concern, the Junior Prom. As we settled into the class meeting, murmurs expressing the independence of '76 could be heard . . .

"Hey, let's not have a prom this year."

"Let's be the first ones to break the tradition."

However, these comments were politely ignored by President Jack McKay, and the meeting progressed.

As Patricia Mello was selected as Prom Committee chairperson, a new controversy arose. Formal or informal prom? With inflation upon us and Phase 3 not yet in action, the guys felt their wallets could not bear the rising costs of renting tuxes. This matter was quickly resolved by a vote that was taken, and the majority (being girls) unanimously decided on a formal prom.

The evening of May seventeenth arrived. The beautiful mural, drawn and painted by Cheryl King and Alan Davey, set the mood for our selected theme, "Imagine." As the evening progressed, the queen and her court were announced: Cheryl King, Patricia Mello, Christine Flanders, Karen Merrill, Patricia Leighton and Wendy VanWaldron were chosen as the court, and the reigning queen was a very surprised Pamela Dowley, escorted by Steven Lambros.

Our senior year has brought with it the hustle bustle of exams, class pictures, applications, invitations, changes and many decisions about the future. Some of us will pursue college; others will find work, or continue Island life. Whatever the decisions, we will always carry with us remembrances of school, be they good or bad. A lot has happened in four years. We have had exciting and victorious athletic seasons; we have developed close friendships; and we have grown considerably.

The high school "fun" is now over and it is time to change directions and put these past four years to constructive use.

Imagine

Life No. Two

Forget the past,
It's time for the future,
For we have just begun.
The phases we've gone through,
And conclusions we have come to,
Are all in the past now for you.
It's a whole new fresh start, for all of us,
May we enjoy even happier lives.
For we are strong young adults,
With our own separate dreams,
And we have much stronger drives.
May our futures be fulfilling,
Ourselves more than willing,
To take the bad in life, as well as the good,
Because of our youth,
And our strong understanding,
I know that we really could.

Did we utilize the days and the months to form lasting friendships with others? Or will the experiences we shared be lost forever with the closing of a book, never to be of benefit to us in a more serious later life?

Did we express ourselves to the fullest extent, and yet keep an open mind which welcomed the thoughts and opinions of others?

Remember me?

i'm the boy you fell in love with
one day in algebra II

i'm the teacher who tried desperately to help you remember where wisconsin was

i'm the beat your heart skipped when that 100th point was made

i'm the book of vocabulary words that didn't help you on your SAT's anyway

i'm the trophy case that you were proud of cause it reflected your face too

i'm the locker that housed all those great memories
this last year

i'm the music center you practiced in, marched in, sang in then left

i'm an old brick building
but i was you
and you were me
for four years

and they were great years.
